The Carolyn and Ernest Fay Lecture and Book Series in Analytical (Jungian) Psychology was established to further the ideas of C.G. Jung among students, faculty, therapists and citizens, as well as to enhance the scholarly activities related to analytical psychology. The Lecture and Book Series addresses topics of importance to the individual and to society. The annual Lecture Series consists of four lectures with subsequent publication by Texas A&M University Press.

Beverley Zabriskie is a Jungian Analyst in private practice in New York City, where she is a founding member of the Jungian Psychology Association (JPA). She is an Assistant Editor of The Journal of Analytical Psychology. She was the program chair for the International Jungian Congress in Barcelona, 2004. She received the 2002 Psychoanalytic Educator of the Year Award from the International Federation of Psychoanalytic Education, is currently on the faculty of the JPA Training Program, and is a past member of the faculty of the C. G. Jung Institute of New York and the C.G. Jung Center of Mexico City. She is a past president of the National Association for the Advancement of Psychoanalysis. Her fifty publications include “A Meeting of Rare Minds”, the Preface to Atom and Archetype, The Pauli-Jung Correspondence, Princeton University Press, 2001 (Gradiva Award Nomination, 2003), “When Psyche meets Soma” in About A Body, Routledge and Brunner, 2006, “Transference and Dream in Illness: Waxing Psyche, Waning Body”, The Journal of Analytical Psychology, 2000, and “The Psyche as Process”, Psychoanalytic Dialogues, 2000.
Texas A&M University, founded in 1876, is the oldest public university in Texas and the only Land, Sea and Space Grant university in the United States. It is the largest university (5200 acres) in the U.S. in area and the fourth largest in enrollment with 45,000 students. Texas A&M is one of only three Texas universities to be a member of the prestigious, American Association of Universities. Texas A&M is the only university in the U.S. ranked in the top 10 in student enrollment, enrollment of National Merit Scholars and the size of its financial endowment.

The fastest growing and second largest college is the College of Liberal Arts (Dean, Charles Johnson, Ph.D.), which is the home of the Department of Psychology (Head, Les Morey, Ph.D.) and its APA accredited Ph.D. program in Clinical Psychology (Director, Douglas Snyder, Ph.D.). It also houses the McMilian Professorship in Analytical Psychology (first and current holder is David Rosen, M.D.), the Carolyn & Ernest Fay Lecture and Book Series in Analytical Psychology, the Shirley Steer Analytical Psychology Book Section & the McMillan Reading Area of the Sells Collection, and the Circle of Friends of Analytical Psychology at Texas A&M.

College Station is the heart of Texas wildflower country and enjoys a very comfortable climate. Spring comes early and the temperature in mid April averages 80°F for the high and 60°F for the low. College Station is served by American Airlines and Continental Express (Skywest).

“Your vision will become clear only when you look into your heart. Who looks outside, dreams. Who looks inside, awakens.”
—C.G. Jung

“The Book and Audio Series

4. THE STILLNESS SHALL BE THE DANCING (Audio Book) by Marion Woodman (1994). “…a catalyst for self-examination and reflection on how we relate to our inner and outer contractual partner.”—Psychological Perspectives (2 cassettes) $19.95

5. BUDDHISM AND THE ART OF PSYCHOTHERAPY by Hayao Kawai (1996). "...popular and deep, humorous and serious, Buddhist and Jungian, individual and collective...”—Psychological Perspectives $22.95

6. GENDER AND DESIRE: UNCURSING PANDORA by Molly Young-Eisendrath (1997). “...a fascinating and stimulating book, very closely written and easy to read, with a wealth of erudition supporting its narrative.”—Journal of Analytical Psychology: $19.50

9. SOUL AND CULTURE by Roberto Gumbani (2003). “Roberto Gumbani, a shaman-like guide, is both analyst for the individual and the world. This timely and timeless book will help us save our soul and culture.”—From the foreword by David Rosen: $29.95

10. THE BLACK SUN: THE ALCHEMY AND ART OF DARKNESS by Stanton Marlan (2005). “Since Jung first opened the obscures of alchemy to psychological insight, no one has done a book as thorough, as rich, and as significant as this astounding work by Stanton Marlan.”—James Hillman, Author of The Soul’s Code: In Search of Character and Calling: $29.95

11. THE OLD WOMAN’S DAUGHTER: TRANSFORMATIVE WISDOM FOR MEN AND WOMEN by Claire Douglas (2006). “By emphasizing both sides (West/East, Fire/Water, Masculine/Feminine, Logos/Physis), Douglas helps us to balance, integrate, harmonize, interconnect and proceed on the Way toward wholeness. We learn how healing is related naturally to the Motherline, attunement, and celebration.”—From the foreword by David Rosen: $23.95

12. MEMORIES OF OUR LOST HANDS: SEARCHING FOR FEMININE SPIRITUALITY AND CREATIVITY by Sonoko Toyota (2006). “This remarkable book, an artistic product from her creative imaginative action, is crucial for both women and men (through the animals).”—From the foreword by David Rosen: $23.95

13. ACTIVE IMAGINATION: HEALING FROM WITHIN by Joan Chodorow (Forthcoming). “This is a marvelous ground breaking scholarly work on active imagination that is both archetypal and developmental”—David Rosen, General Editor of the Fay Book Series $24.95

14. LA CURANDERA: HEALING IN TWO WORLDS by Clarissa Pinkola Estés (Forthcoming)

15. ETHICS & ANALYSIS: PHILOSOPHICAL PERSPECTIVES AND THEIR APPLICATION IN THERAPY by Legee Ziga (Forthcoming)

16. THE THERAPEUTIC RELATIONSHIP: TRANSFERENCE, COUNTERTRANSFERENCE AND THE MAKING OF MEANING by Jan Wiener (Forthcoming)
